The following information on the Polish Ministry of National Defense was given:

This document is hereby regraded to CONFIDENTIAL in accordance with the letter of 16 October 1978 from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Archivist of the United States.

1. The ministry buildings were still under construction in late January 1949. The main building, was located on Kosciuszkowa Street, having its main entrance on Niepodleglosci Street.
2. The department of General JAROSZEWIC was located on the second and third floor of the western wing of the ministry. Officer's billets, also located in this wing, were accessible only through the guarded main entrance.
3. The guard unit of four companies was quartered in the yard of the ministry. Sentries were posted at the main entrance and the gateways to the yard but not in the building corridors. All persons without proper passes had to report at the main guardroom. Sentries could not check persons known to them. A nine-story annex building on Niepodleglosci Street was particularly strictly guarded.
4. The office hours in the ministry lasted from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Before 8 a.m. charwomen cleaned the building and burned the contents of wastepaper baskets, the latter activity being supervised by soldiers who did not pay close attention.
